

2019 Summer Solstice Chamber Music Workshop for Community Players

Workshop: Tuesday, June 11 to Saturday, June 15, 2019

Performance: Monday, June 17, 2019

Participants in the 2019 Summer Solstice Amateur Chamber Music Workshop will study and play chamber music together in a relaxed atmosphere conducive to learning. The workshop is designed to develop their performance skills while also enhancing their understanding and appreciation of the art of chamber music.

Coaches will be violist Ethan Filner (formerly with San Francisco's Cypress String Quartet), violinist Ewald Cheung (graduate of McGill and Juilliard), pianist Patricia Tao (professor at the University of Alberta), and Rafael Hoekman, principal cellist of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra.

The workshop will take place for five days, June 11–15, 2019, ending with a performance on Monday, June 17, 2019.

For details and information about applying for the workshop, please visit http://edmontonchambermusic.org/solstice_2019.php#workshop

Each group will receive daily two-hour coaching sessions. Coaching sessions will take place between the hours of 4:30-8:30 PM, although coaching times can be flexible to meet participants' needs.

Cost: [fees include GST]

- 10 hours of coaching: $425 per person for duos and trios, $375 per person for quartets
- 5 hours of coaching: $215 per person for duos and trios, $185 per person for quartets and quintets

Musicians may apply as a formed group or as an individual. We will make every effort to fit you into a group based on your level of experience and playing.
