

Message from His Worship Mayor Don Iveson

On behalf of City Council and the people of Edmonton, I welcome everyone to the 65th anniversary season of the Edmonton Chamber Music Society.

Music has the ability to bring individuals together from across cultural and social boundaries, to create opportunities for shared experience and to bring energy and vibrancy into our lives. The Edmonton Chamber Music Society provides a wonderful opportunity for us to engage with and learn about music – everything from early music to contemporary works. By providing affordable concerts and outreach programs for students, the Society improves the quality of life for all Edmontonians and enhances our national and international reputation as a hub for arts and culture.

I thank the organizers, sponsors and musicians from the Society for working to instill a love of music and performance in Edmontonians of all ages. Your commitment to developing the next generation of artists enhances Edmonton's thriving arts and cultural scene.

Yours truly,
